FAMILY MATTERS @ ZHANGDE

Help Your Child (re)Discover Joy of Learning

Date : Friday 29 July 2016
Venue : Haven Room (Level 2)
Time : 7pm to 9pm (Registration at 6.50pm)
Speaker : Mr Halbert Louis (English session)

The frantic pace and competitive educational life in Singapore has left many parents anxious about their children’s academic performance and future as well. Too often attempts to discipline them and motivate them in their academic pursuits have been met with resistance and not much progress in their motivation level. Maybe parents should reconsider their expectations & approach? World renowned psychologist, Dr. Carol Dweck categorized parents as either learning-oriented or performance-oriented. Could becoming a more learning-oriented parent be helpful? Come and join us for an interactive session!

Outline:

- Unlocking an innate desire to learn
- Be a “learning-oriented” not a “performance-oriented” parent
- Effort vs. Ability - which do we emphasize?
- Intrinsic motivation vs. External rewards/punishment

Speaker – Mr Halbert Louis holds a Master’s degree in Counselling as well as the full ACTA certificate. Halbert started his company in 2012, running corporate mental wellness workshops and family oriented programs. He has conducted numerous parenting workshops in different schools in Singapore for the past 5 years. He is also a registered counsellor and conducts marriage and family counselling. He has been married for 24 years and has two teenage daughters studying in Singapore, older one in NUS and the younger studying in US.
